“teachers.on.net is easy to use and is a quick way to see vacancies in schools.”

Sue Kupke, Christian Studies Officer,
Lutheran Schools Association

“Our school has been very impressed with teachers.on.net. The positions that we've posted have allowed applicants to enquire and apply who otherwise most likely would not have known about the vacancy.”

Steve Hein, Council Chair, Unity College

“teachers.on.net provides an easily accessible and well organised site for exploring teaching opportunities across Australia.”

Shane Schoff, Science Coordinator, Endeavour College

who are we?

teachers.on.net is jobsite just for education where thousands of schools advertise their vacancies and tens of thousands of teachers find jobs. It's cost effective, user friendly and a great way of matching schools to teachers and teachers to schools. Teachers can also upload their professional profiles to the site for schools to access when looking for staff.

how much does it cost?

teachers.on.net is a low-cost method of advertising when compared with booking ads in the mainstream media. This site is for schools and teachers only, so you are advertising directly to schools seeking teachers or teachers seeking work. Add to this the global reach of internet advertising and the figures really add up. Schools are charged an annual subscription according to the number of students they have enrolled.

A subscription allows you:

- to advertise as many times a year as you need to
- access to the extensive teacher database

cost for 12 months
